

NPL Site Narrative for Sharkey Landfill

SHARKEY LANDFILL

Parsippany, Troy Hls, New Jersey

Conditions at listing (December 1982): Sharkey Landfill covers 200 acres in Parsippany and Troy Hills, New Jersey. The privately-owned landfill ceased operation in the early 1960s. It consists of two fill areas separated by the Rockaway River. The Sharkey Landfill has a long but undocumented history as a disposal site for municipal solid waste. In addition, industrial wastes have been reportedly dumped. State and EPA inspections have documented leachate seeps.

Status (July 1983): EPA recently completed a Remedial Action Master Plan outlining the investigations needed to determine the full extent of cleanup required at the site. It will guide further actions at the site.
